

NANCY HANKS.

A Great Horse With a Great Record—Something about The Care Given Her and How She Looks.

Beautiful, certainly. The prettiest little bit of horseflesh, the writer of this has ever seen. Who? Why Nancy Hanks, of course.

The famous Miss Nancy Who suits her own fancy, And gets clear "out of sight" without so much as asking anybody's leave. She is a darling and after she has put on her out door wrap, a prettily trimmed blanket, and has had a moderate outing, she is taken into the nicest quarters—horse quarters—imaginable. The box or stall in which the pretty creature sleeps is filled with nice clean straw and around it, to exclude draughts probably, to show how much care is bestowed on her, blankets of every thickness and color are hung. Ornaments are not wanting either, and several bits of hand painted work are seen among the blankets.

THE TOILET ARTICLES, consist of long bristled brushes, soft switch broom, large soft towels and all the paraphernalia which a "lady" of such prominence needs. While the writer was gazing with admiring eyes upon the fair Nancy, her groom seized a towel and carefully rubbed her face until it fairly glowed. He then parted her soft brown "bangs" and the gazelle-like eyes which looked out had an expression which plainly said "I'm a beauty and I know it, I'm a hummer and can show it."

Oh yes, outside of her great reputation Nancy Hanks is worth seeing. This is what the writer learned about her in a talk with her famous trainer, who is a gentleman of medium height a little inclined to be a strawberry blonde, but with a pleasant blue eye and a genial smile which gives him the right to be called handsome. It was learned that Nancy is six years old, that she was born, where most of the good things come from, near Lexington, Kentucky, that she is owned by Mr. J. Malcolm Forbes, who has a magnificent stock farm within an hour's ride of Boston, that Mr. Doble has handled her for two years, that she weighs in the neighborhood of 865 pounds, that she is 15 hands and three quarter inches in height, that she is a beautiful dark bay in color and has a disposition as

SWEET AS AN ANGEL.

Mr. Doble who is as tender hearted as a woman says "Nancy is cared for as gently as if she were indeed a queen. She has never had a blow in her life and certainly she is bound to yet surpass her previous great record. It entirely depends upon the weather and the track—whether she will or will not do it here."

As to her record here it is: She developed considerable speed at two years of age and when she was four, she gave such promise that it was not hard to predict for her a great future.

She trotted at Richmond, Indiana, last year, her best time, in 2:09. Her first success this year was 2:11 at Cleveland, Ohio, after this, however, she only made 2:13 and the press declared she had seen

HER BEST DAYS.

She had not, however, as she next trotted at Grand Rapids, Mich., in 2:09; next at Chicago in 2:07; next at Independence on the kite-shaped track in 2:05; next at St. Paul on a regulation track, in 2:09; next at St. Joseph, Mo., in 2:07; next at Terre Haute, Ind., in 2:04; next at New Albany, Ind., in 2:06 and at Nashville, Tenn., in 2:05. Her best time, it will be seen, was made at Terre Haute, but Mr. Doble says it was generally admitted that it was the track and the weather which caused her to fall behind at Nashville and that "Nancy was all right." Certainly in those old days when the wonderful little mare Flora Temple, astonished our grandfathers with her record of 2:19, Nancy even at Nashville, would have been considered ed a Mercury, but in this day of Edison and electricity things are a little different and Nancy Hanks at Terre Haute takes the biggest doughnut in the pan.

GO AND SEE HER.

She is worth it. Don't mind if the ministers do scold a little about the races—a great horse, yes great horses, for Nancy is in excellent company and worth seeing and the kite shaped track and the races are well worth a visit.

Queen of the turf, oh Nancy Hanks, To thee we bring our praise; Long may your supple, slender shanks The racing world amaze.

Long may you rush beneath the wire— "A record breaker" still— Long may you wild applause inspire From those who know your skill.

Though but a horse, oh Nancy Hanks, You well deserve a crown Which through your heels and sturdy flanks, Coy Fame has handed down.

And when no more, the cry of "Go" Shall rouse to lightning pace, Oh may your epitaph still show That Nancy's won the race.

NOTES.

—Besides the groom, who cares for Nancy Hanks, there is an assistant groom, and a veterinary surgeon to look after her health.

—Martha Wilkes made her best record at Independence, Io., but she was also successful in a race at Evansville, Ind., and there passed under the wire in 2:08 1/2.

—Mr. Doble is a native of Philadelphia, but at present resides in Chicago. He has been in his present business for thirty years, and has only to wink at Nancy to be understood.

—Mrs. Wiggins is as much interested in the horses her husband owns as is that gentleman himself, and although she spends her winters in Boston, she never forgets the stock, and frequently drives out to the farm to see that all is well. She is a cultured and refined lady, too, and has enjoyed every advantage of travel. She thinks Mr. Doble has no equal in his particular line, and speaks highly of him as a gentleman in every sense of the word.

—Martha Wilkes, whose record stands at 2:08, has a beautifully fitted up box directly next to Nancy Hanks and is as pretty as a picture. She is the property of E. D. Wiggins, and was named after his handsome wife, Martha Wilkes Wiggins. Mr. Wiggins bought Martha when she was but one year old, and she has been petted and made much of on their magnificent stock farm near Boston. Martha has special care takers, and Mrs. Wiggins has frequently driven her, both to a sleigh and light driving buggy. Kindness is the rule at the Wiggins farm, and if a horse shows the least sign that harshness has been made towards it, the groom or stable boy is at once discharged. For the colts, a "kindergarten" track is provided and the halter is placed about their necks when they are not over five days old.

Wants a Divorce.

Simon May to-day filed papers with Circuit Clerk Fowler, asking a divorce from his wife, Mary Elizabeth May. The parties were married in Westmoreland county, Penn., Oct. 14th, 1884 and lived together until April 1888. The cause brought forward by reason of amour and lison of the defendant with one Zimmerman, in Pennsylvania, with whom she finally eloped and when last heard from were living together in Altoona, Iowa.

SUBSCRIPTIONS STARTED.

The Northern Road Proposition Taken Up Again.

The chamber of commerce says the Springfield Democrat, of the 23d, was filled yesterday afternoon with business men of the city who came to show their interest in the northern road project and seek some way to advance the enterprise. Many men were there who have not been heretofore interested in the enterprise, and showed a desire to push the road through.

President O. A. Crandall, of Sedalia, addressed the meeting and expressed his surprise that the citizens of Springfield had not done what they agreed to. He had taken the presidency at the earnest solicitation of this city and Marshall.

"I have been in business many years and never failed to make a project go that I have took hold of. I never took hold of a thing that I had not thoroughly canvassed as I did this matter. I was convinced that, if the people along the line would do as they promised and as it is for their best interest to do, this enterprise was a good one.

"I did not go in as a speculator, but merely as one of you would and was only prevailed upon to take the presidency of the road by continued urging and when I did take it I went to work and have done my part. I have now the promise of money enough to build the road whenever the subscriptions are raised."

THE PROPOSITION.

The proposition was read, which was in substance that the company will build the road from Springfield to Miami by way of Sedalia and Marshall. That Springfield must furnish a bonus of $100,000 and the right of way in the county and into the city by way of Phelps avenue and depot facilities in the city. The notes are to be payable, one-third when the road is in operation to Sedalia, one-third one year thereafter and the last two years thereafter, no interest being paid on the notes unless they are not paid at maturity, when interest will be collected from date of maturity. If the company does not begin work in six months after the completion of the subscriptions the notes will be forfeited.

ACCEPTANCE AND SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Col. H. F. Fellows moved that the proposition be accepted and the motion was seconded by James R. Bell and was carried without a dissenting voice.

Speeches approving the enterprise and urging prompt action on it were made by Charles H. Heer, R. L. McElhany, Blonde Holland, Dr. L. Ullman Martin Hubble and others. All were enthusiastic and hopeful.

Judge Lincoln thought that the best way to begin was to give money and so he volunteered to give $500. He was followed by a subscription from J. B. Ross for $1,000, and James R. Bell for $350, making $1850 in all.

At this point it was suggested that subscriptions be deferred to a public meeting at the Grand opera house at the earliest convenience. R. L. McElhany have offered the house and the lights free and said that any night not already taken could be used.

The meeting will be held as soon as possible, probably Monday or Tuesday night. All are urged to come and take an interest in the enterprise.

PRIZE CAMPAIGN SONG.

Written For The New York "World" by a Republican Officeholder at Washington.

[Air: "Benny Havens, O." or "Wearing of the Green."] To every teeming city, to town and village sent,

To every shop and mine and farm the thrilling message went: "We've got our old commander back, he'll lead us once again!"

Be up and rally for the fray, and quit you there like men; And quit you there like men, and quit you there like men; Be up and rally for the fray, and quit you there like men.

He stands for all that's dearest for which our fathers fought: The people's right to rule the land, for votes that can't be bought; He stands for lower taxes, for gold and silver too. For equal right and laws for all—for everything that's true; For everything that's true, for everything that's true; For equal rights and laws for all, for everything that's true.

He's for the civil service, and not for sham pretense; He's for the common people, and he's full of common sense; He's brave and level-headed, and it's his unchanging plan, Whatever he may think is right, to say it like a man.

To say it like a man, to say it like a man; Whatever he may think is right, to say it like a man.

Our party knows no sections—North, South or East or West; The bloody shirt and bayonet we heartily detest;

We're dead against the force bill, but we're for the church and school, And everywhere and all the time we advocate home rule.

We do not wish to regulate our neighbor's hours or drinks, Nor do we want to interfere with what our neighbor thinks;

The Constitution and the laws decide our every doubt, And we're always good and ready to turn the rascals out.

To turn the rascals out, to turn the rascals out; And we're always good and ready to turn the rascals out.

Then raise for Grover Cleveland a mighty, deafening cheer! We'll land him in the White House safe before another year.

No Pinkerton detectives then to run our shops and mills; No billion-dollar congresses with him to veto bills.

With him to veto bills, with him to veto bills; No billion-dollar congresses with him to veto bills.

Then, up and at them, Democrats! Charge home their wavering ranks! They break, they fly, the day is ours; They're routed front and flank; Monopoly is on the run, protection don't protect; But think of Seventy-six and swear election shall elect.

Election shall elect, election shall elect; But think of Seventy-six and swear election shall elect.

And when our sturdy captain comes to his own again He'll need a very different chair from that of little Ben. We'll hunt him up the very one in which Old Hickory sat, And he'll fill it like a statesman, for he is a Democrat!

The How of It.

How poor, how rich, how abject, how august, how complicated, how wonderful is man; and it might be added, how "mysterious" is woman. With her peculiarly delicate and intense organization, she is the superlative degree of man. Even in diseases she excels him, having many that he has not. She has, however, found out a grand remedial agent, for the cure of her diseases, in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; a medicine suited to her nature, made for the express cure of those diseases which affect her. It is especially effective in all weaknesses incidental to motherhood, while it is also a potent restorative tonic for the feeble and debilitated generally.

A Sad Accident.

Clarence Gilbreath, aged 12 years, a stepson of George Verden of Schell City, met with an accident Saturday afternoon which cost him his life. Gilbreath and several other boys were erecting a merry-go-round and had placed a heavy hickory pole twelve feet high in a mortise. He had climbed to the top, when the guy-rope broke and he fell, the heavy timber falling across his body, breaking eleven of his ribs. Gilbreath lingered until Sunday morning when he died at 4 o'clock.

FROM WARNER'S HOME.

An Interesting Letter On the Political Situation, and Other Gossip.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Oct. 24, 1892. EDITOR BAZOO:

The past week has been one of unusual warmth, politically, although the weather has been such as to remind us of overcoats and of the fact that old winter will probably no longer "linger in the lap of summer," as she has done for the past two or three years ago.

During last week, outside of the usual attractions at the theatres, which were varied and of unusual interest, the democratic wigwag has nightly been filled with a vast concourse of people, to listen to able and eloquent speakers expound the doctrines of democracy. There has been no lukewarmness, no faltering in the pronouncements of the doctrines of a "government of the people, by the people and for the people."

During last week Ex-Governor Chas. Robinson of Kansas, was the guest of Missouri democrats and delivered a telling speech, abounding in facts and figures, and mainly devoted to tariff reform, civil service and the force bill. The speech was, in fact, an answer to the Topeka speech of Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls.

While Gov. Robinson may not possess the eloquent tongue of the Ex-Senator, and his diction may not reach that gentleman's altitude, it is safe to say that the figures he produced and the bare facts spread out before his audience, told with more than tenfold effect than did the ex-senator's eloquence and rhetoric in defense of the g. o. p. When it is understood that

GOV. ROBINSON WAS A REPUBLICAN in the old regime, and in the bloody days of Kansas—when the fight was on between Jayhawkers and Border Ruffians—when John Brown was in the flesh and in the zenith of his mad ambition, before he had reached the shores of Virginia and sounded his own death knell—when he was known as Ossawatimie Brown—that it was in these days that Gov. Robinson was a republican, and while governor of Kansas was arrested and taken from a steamboat at Lexington, Mo., where he was guarded at the house of Hon. Samuel L. Sawyer, afterwards a congressman from this district, beating John T. Crisp for that honor. When these things are taken into consideration, I say, and men gaze upon his venerable appearance and listen to his appeals in behalf of the democratic party, they have not only a peculiar significance but bear a weight that reached the thinking man's understanding and causes him to ponder the question of so great a change in such a character.

REPUBLICANS ARE ON THE RUN.

and as usual in their warfare, when tightly pressed, are beginning to call upon the federal government for assistance. The cry of "Stand up for Missouri" by the Warner element has "died a bornin'" and democrats even who were "weak-kneed" have to come to see its fallacy.

The evening Star, which has all through the campaign held high the banner of Warner for governor and Cleveland for president, will find by the 9th of next month how futile was its effort, even more so than was its fight only a short time ago for the National Water works as against Kansas City.

Republicans are now claiming fraud in the registration—that the Democrats are going to vote dead men. They cry now for an honest election. Back in 1868, when Van Horn, of the Journal went to Congress and Warner accepted the position of prosecuting attorney of the district—when Frank Rodman counted them in by the burning of the ballots of Jackson county and disfranchising her voters, they did not call for United States marshals. Oh! no it was the other ball being gored.

But now they want them and want them bad.

They want them to save Major Warner from defeat.

TIS TOO LATE.

The cry of "stand up for Missouri" has been tried and is of no avail, we must resort to force if necessary.

A prominent republican said to me the other day:

"I know you are a Democrat, now I will vote for Cleveland for president if you will vote for Warner for governor."

"I told him no a thousand times no. Do you think I do not see your scheme. You know the state will go for Cleveland, and you are not how large the majority if by trading you can secure the election of the republican state ticket, and when you have control of the state, in four years you can carry it republican for the presidential ticket."

"But it won't work. We know you too well under whatever guise you come, you are the old radical republican party, and as such, must meet your doom on the 8th of next month, both in federal, state and local elections."

Don't allow the good people of Pettis county, and especially the democratic people, to be fooled by this cry, and trade their votes. Present an honest front. Contest every inch of ground. Stand by your organization, and victory will reward you on November the 8th. CAMPBELL.

SHOT AT BUTLER.

The City Marshal Kills a Recognized Tough.

Yesterday evening about six o'clock the little city of Butler, Mo., was thrown into a state of excitement over the killing of one James Franklin, by City Marshal Hartwell.

Franklin, who was nothing less than a town tough, defied any of the authorities to arrest him.

Marshal Hartwell was called to the scene to quiet the troubles. When attempting to place Franklin under arrest, the latter drew a revolver and attempted to fire it. Hartwell drew a weapon at the same time and fired three shots, all of which took effect in Franklin's body. Franklin died late last night. Public sympathy is with the marshal.

Sawed the Bars.

Yesterday, Sheriff Smith discovered that five of his colored jail birds were making an attempt to break out of their cage. They were Bill Bibie and Hayden Bryant, petit larceny; Wm. Smith and Walter Mason, highway robbery, and Charles Banks, murder. They had made steel saws from the shanks of their shoes and sawed the bars nearly through so that a slight wrench would break them.

A Vote.

As conductor Lewis' train was pulling into Kansas City yesterday evening a drummer who had come aboard at Lexington, called the passengers attention and asked that a trial vote be taken for governor. It was taken, and resulted in forty-one for Stone and eight for Warner, there being forty-nine men on the train. Mail Agent McQuid stumped the train for Stone.
